Why is this allowed to happen?

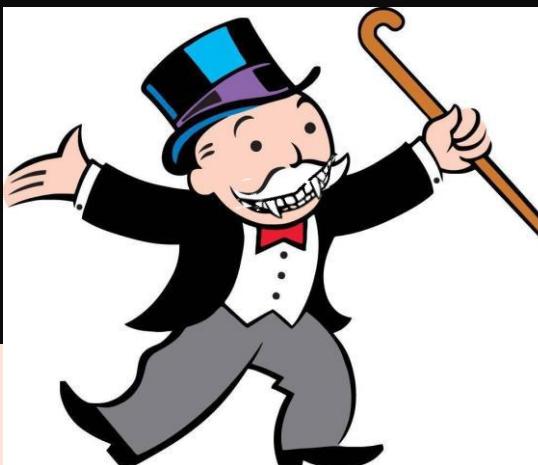

Because Capitalists suck.

Literally:

— Karl Marx —

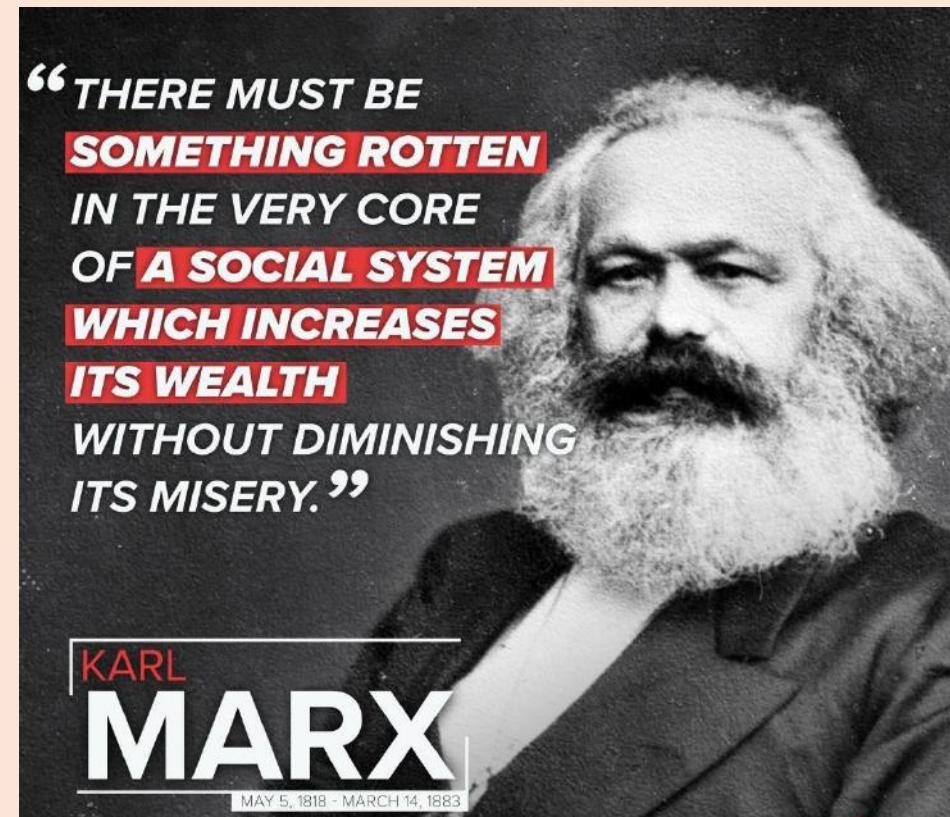

Capital is dead labor, which, vampire-like, lives only by sucking living labor, and lives the more, the more labor it sucks.

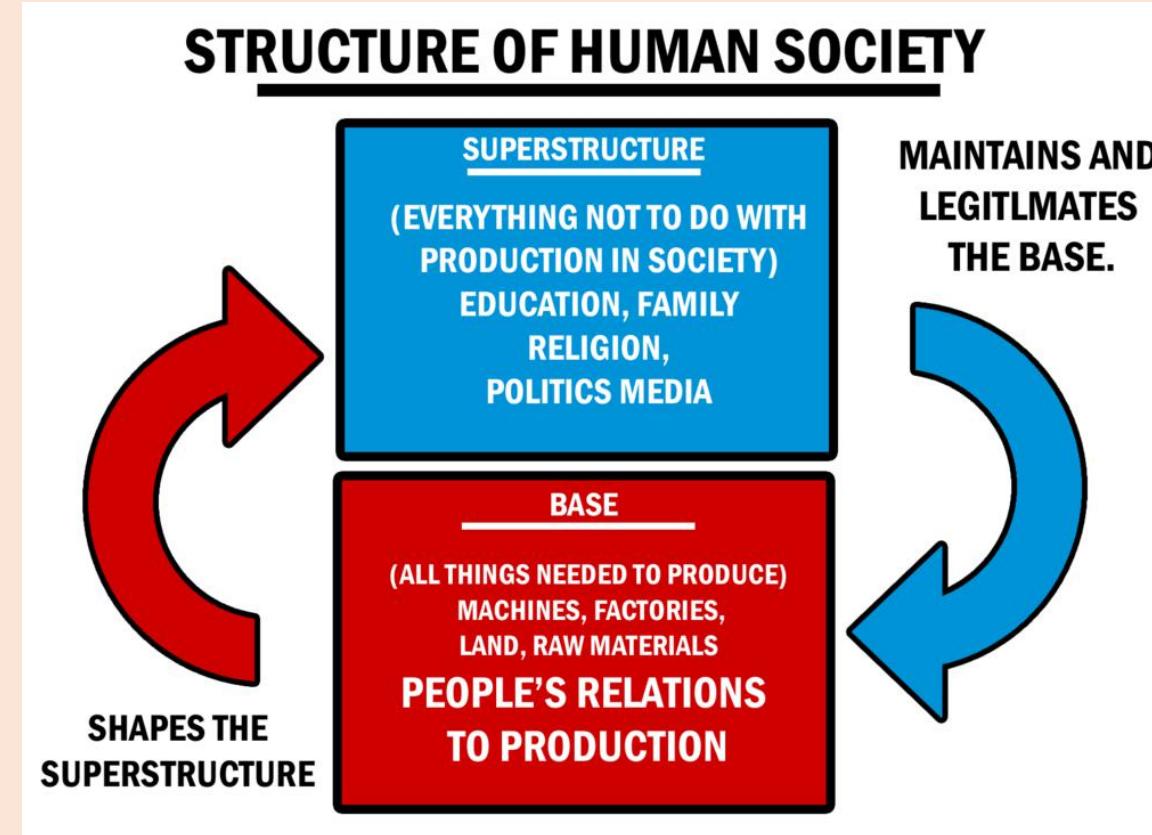

Marx my words: More money leads to more exploitation.

Unlimited exploitation of cheap labour-power is the sole foundation of their power to compete.

It just leads to more exploitation of the environment, society, and people.

False consciousness allows this to happen

The owners of production (rich) make it so that the workers (poor/working class) cannot believe an alternative.

One last note:

Socialism

Autocracy

Dictatorship

No personal property

Socialism just means that the WORKERS are the OWNERS of production, so there is no “ruling class”.

Housing, health care, etc. becomes a right not privilege!

- Does this community want me to work on this project?
- Am I the appropriate person to work on this project?

Design Justice is relatively new, so you can get involved easily!

Data Justice

What is Data Justice?

Fairness in the way people are:

1. Made visible
2. Represented
3. Treated

That involve their digital data.

Why bring up data justice now?

We are collecting data next week!!!

Why bring up data justice now?

Personal data and data privacy should be a right, like clean air, water, food, and housing.

Why bring up data justice now?

To the left of the title is a menu icon (three horizontal lines) and to the right is a search icon (magnifying glass). Below the title, the author's name 'MAGGIE HARRISON' is mentioned along with the publication date 'MAY 11'. The main headline is 'Google Unveils Plan to Demolish the Journalism Industry Using AI', displayed in a large, bold, black font. A subtitle below the headline reads 'This could change everything.' At the bottom of the article excerpt, there is a small line of text indicating the categories: '/ Artificial Intelligence / Ai / Google / Large Language Models'.

Google Unveils Plan to Demolish the Journalism Industry Using AI

Why bring up data justice now?

"Google has unveiled its vision for how it will incorporate AI into search," tweeted The Verge's James Vincent. "The quick answer: it's going to gobble up the open web and then summarize/rewrite/regurgitate it (pick the adjective that reflects your level of disquiet) in a shiny Google UI."

Research has shown that information consumers hardly ever make it to even the second page of search results, let alone even the bottom of the page. And worse, it's not like Google's taking clicks away from its longtime information merchants by hiring an army of human content writers to churn out summarization. Google's new search interface, which is built on a model that's already been trained by way of boatloads upon boatloads of unpaid-for human output, will seemingly be swallowing even more human-made content and spitting it back out to information-seekers, all the while taking valuable clicks away from the publishers that are actually doing the work of reporting, curating, and holding powerful interests like Google to account.

Chrome user search patterns and behaviors is being used to train all this!

Data Justice

Three pillars of data justice

- (in) visibility
- (dis) engagement with technology
- non-discrimination

Note the opposite of the first two concepts.

Connecting Design Justice to Data Justice

What is data justice? The case for connecting digital rights and freedoms globally

Consider your surveys

(In)Visibility

- How are you making community data visible?
- How are you allowing data to be removed?

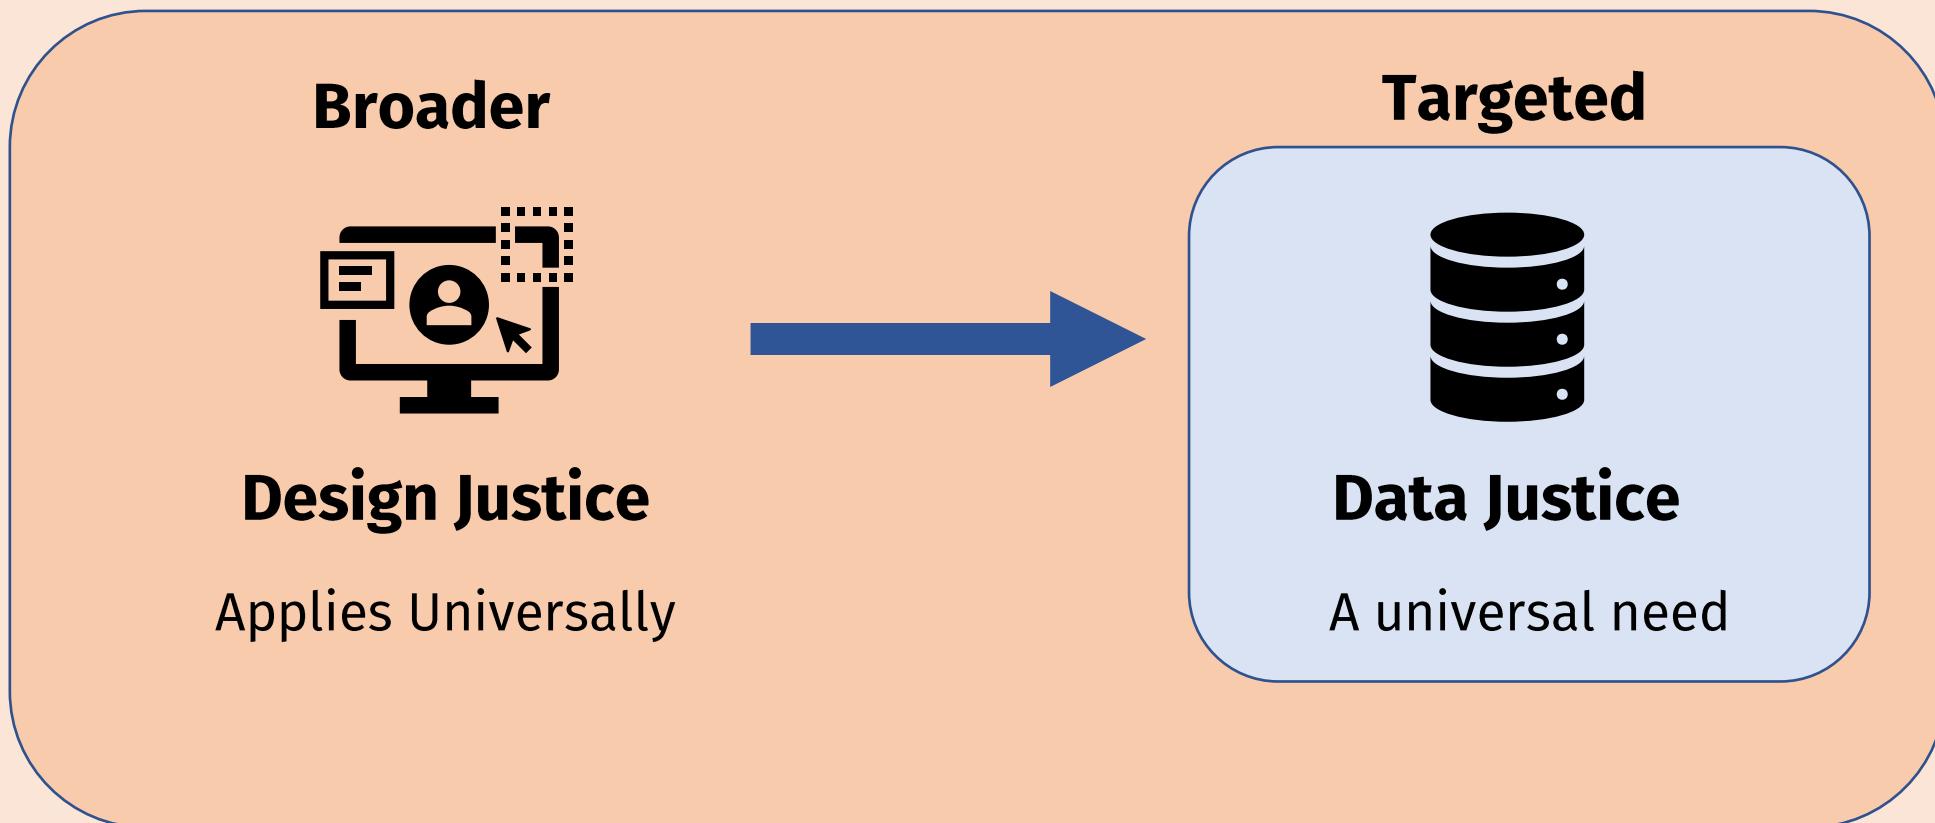

(Dis)engagement with technology

- Are participants allowed to use any technology? (Smart phone/web browser)
- How are you enabling participants to opt-out using technology but still participate?

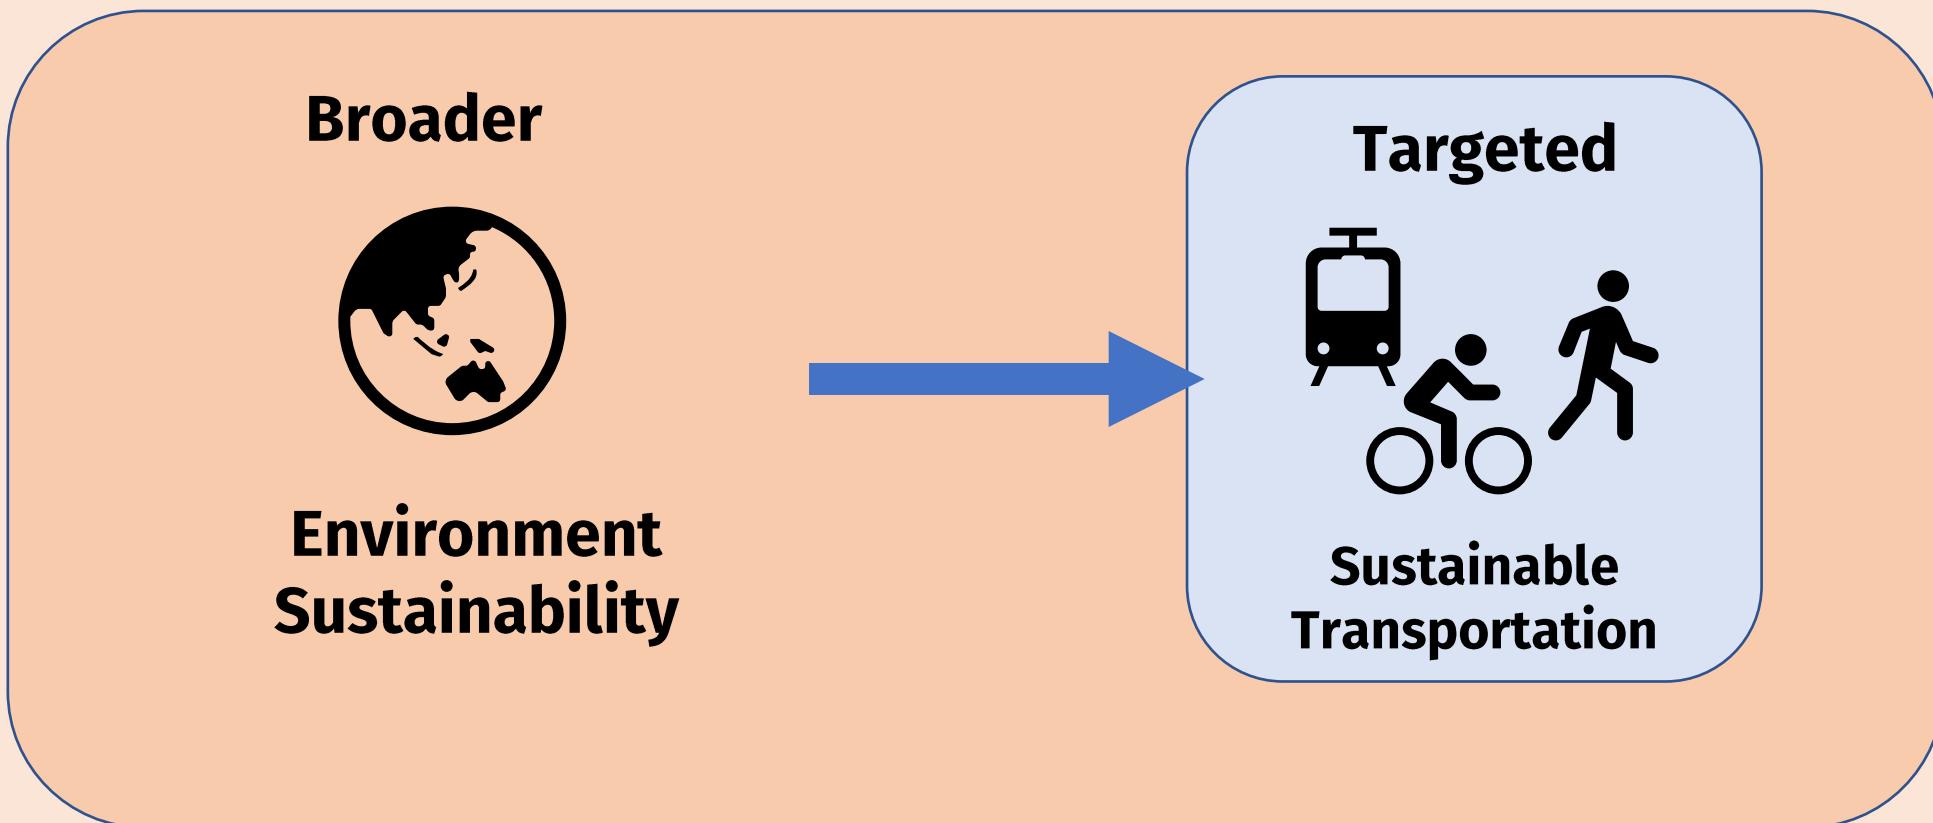

Non-discrimination

- How can survey participants voice their concerns about how their data is being displayed?
- How can participants prevent discrimination?

“The ends justify the means”

- What are the consequences of your decision?
- Do they improve the common good of those affected?

Deontology

- What norms and expectations are you establishing?
- Are you upholding your duties of care?

Virtue Ethics

“Are you living a good life true to yourself by doing this action?”

- What type of person do you become in the process?

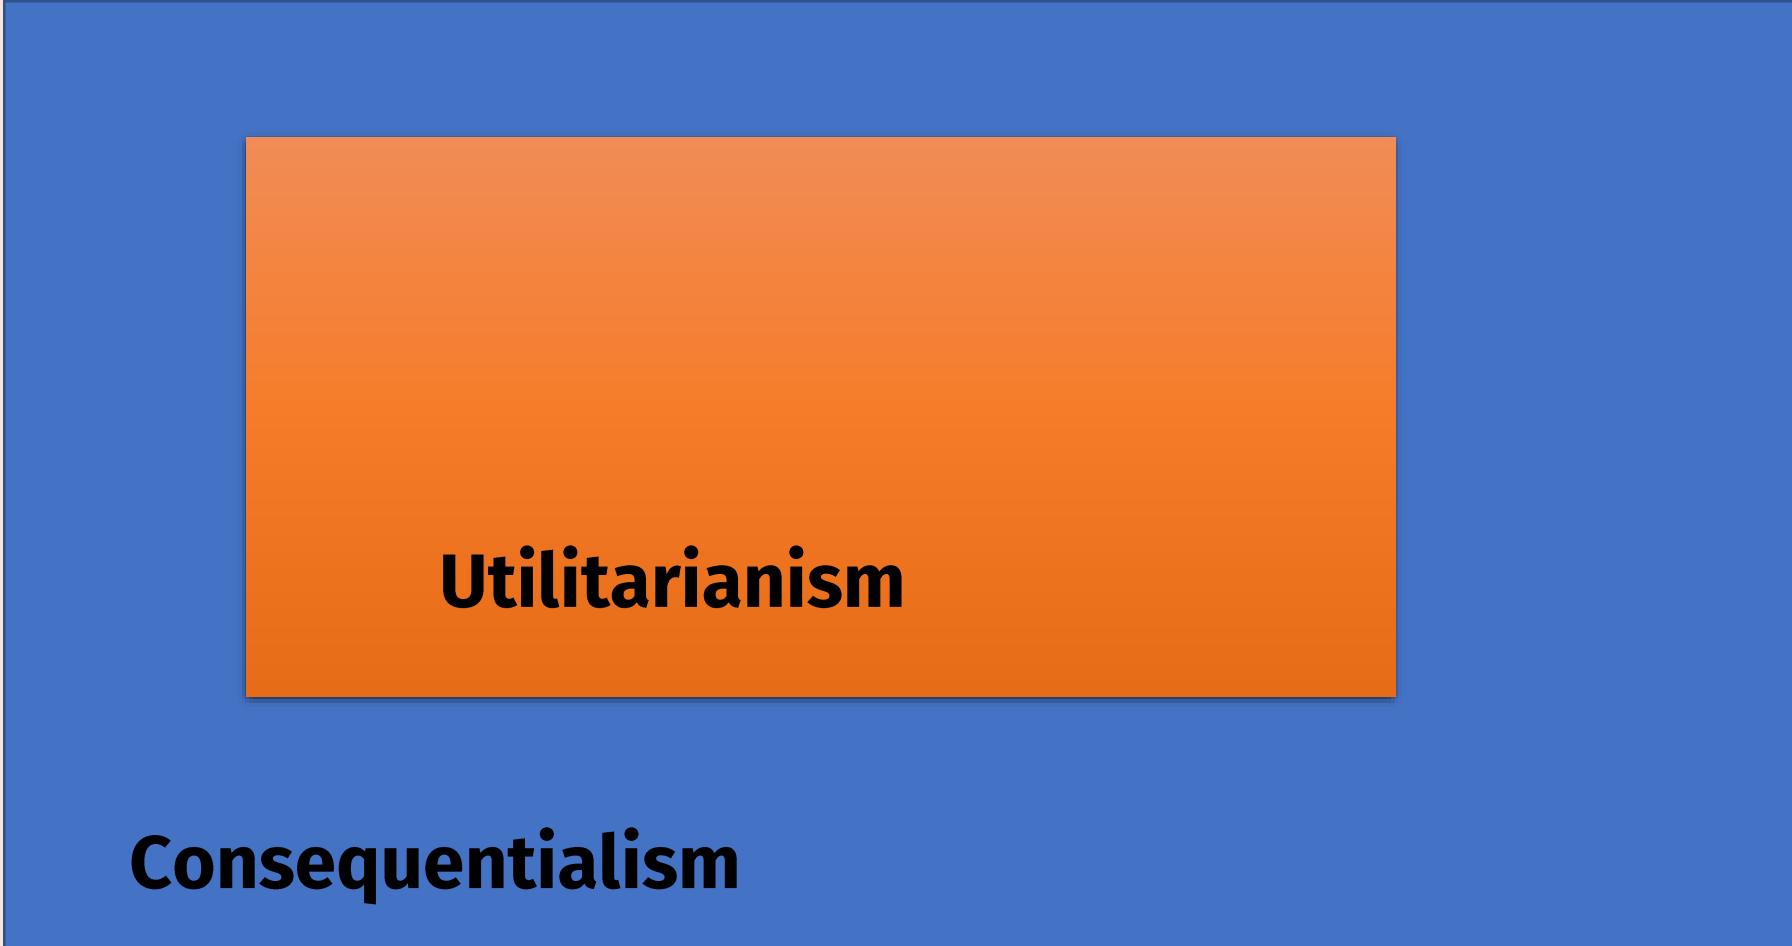

Capability Approach

“What is the actual capability for a person to achieve their own well-being?

Design Justice and Data Justice are interconnected

Key Takeaway:

Design Justice

How does your application fit into the larger context of empowering civil society?

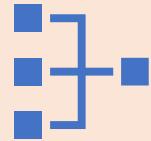

Data Justice

Do the parts of your application protect the inherent rights of people?

Both are ethical frameworks for systemizing and defending your decisions

Remember, ethics is about

Data is not “objective”.
Our applications are not “objective”.
What is “objective” then?

Our experiences and the experiences of the communities we facilitate and empower.

We must focus our applications with ethical frameworks to avoid misconceptions.

Why?

Decide where you want to be going with your mapplication.

Or external forces will decide that for you.

And you will just be upholding the status quo... and not transforming civil society.

Be intentional and thoughtful

Key: Be intentional and thoughtful

If your designs and data intentions are not clear,
it will be easy for others to turn your intentions
against you and the community.

Most critical point

Be intentional in what you design and what you choose to share.

Design is relatively easy

Justice is hard

But.....

The arc of the moral universe is long,
but it bends towards justice.

So, let's fight on the side of the moral arc.

And now for something completely different
